Distressed Debt 1 LP Selection Process

After our initial daily screening of global bond issues for yields and maturities:

1. We review the issuer's most recent quarter and year end financials and its relative performance to the industry segment it's within, for any sign or indication that their financial woes may have changed course.
2. If issuers show multiple signs of a turnaround (most do not, as they are simply just waiting for the climate that affected them to improve), we mark only the top tier for further review.
3. In a more intensive review, we compare the debt load to revenue, income, gross profits, cash flow, cash on hand, asset valuations (vs. book valuations), etc. We believe debt asset valuation is important in minimal profits or low coverage ratios.
4. We then review its stock and current news to see if we can identify a changing trend or a new business cycle that corresponds to any improvement. We try to measure performance from the point of the change.
5. Finally, we take the idea to our team to see what additional risk they might see or find that hasn't been factored into the issue.

Distressed Debt 1 LP Strategy

Distressed Debt 1 is looking for companies with a new plan and team, improving each quarter since making the change. This often becomes a waiting game, as it can take 3 or 4 quarters before we see enough improvement in the quarterly financial metrics to believe that the new plan has a reasonably high degree of being successful. If Distressed Debt 1 thinks that from the point of change the company's performance, as demonstrated in its actual financial reporting, indicates that there is a much greater chance of succeeding rather than of failing, and its debt is still priced as a bankrupt or distressed issue, we will look to acquire it for pennies on the dollar.
